

The Museum of Education
School of Philosophy - University of Athens (founded in 1993)

<https://en.uoa.gr/about-us/museums/education-museum>

The Museum of Education belongs to the Department of Educational Studies. The aims of the Museum are the research, studying and preservation of the cultural heritage in the Sector of Education, and the qualifying of graduates in the Faculties of History of Education, Pedagogy, Education, and Museology. Its first exhibition was held in 2000. Since 2013 the Museum runs a permanent exhibition and concurrent educational programmes and activities specially designed for the pupils-visitors of the Primary and Secondary Education.

The NKUA Museum of Education (5th floor, room 518), as part of the ISCHE47 Cultural and Social Program, will be open to the visitors on:

- Thursday 16th of July, between 10:00 to 13:00 and
- Friday 17th of July, between 10:00 to 13:00

(no food and beverages allowed inside the Museum. Limited number of seated)

