

Self-deception in Ancient Philosophy

Self-deception in Ancient Philosophy

An International Conference

Athens, June 12-13, 2023

Monday, 12 June 2023 - Tuesday, 13 June 2023

“Kostis Palamas” Building

Programme

Monday, June 12

10.00 Arrival of the participants

10.15-10.30 Opening, Greetings:

- Prof. Dimitrios Karadimas, Vice-Rector for Academic and Student Affairs

- Prof. Antonis Hatzimoysis, Chair of the Dept. of History and Philosophy of Science

- Prof. Panagiotis Thanassas

Session 1. Chair: Christof Rapp

10.30-11.15 Panagiotis Thanassas (NKU Athens): Self-deceiving mortals in Parmenides' doxa

11.15-12.00 Walter Mesch (Münster): Plato on self-deceiving Sophists. The example of Gorgias

Coffee Break

12.30-13.15 Sara De Leonardis (Cornell): Sightlovers (Rep. 475d-480a): a case of self-deception

Session 2. Chair: Pavlos Kontos

17.30-18.15 Andrea Buongiorno (Oxford): Aristotle on perceptual self-deception

18.15-19.00 Brian Killackey (Catholic@Washington): Failing to Know Ourselves: Aristotle on Doxa and Self-Deception

Coffee Break

19.30-20.15 Ioannis Telios (NKU Athens): Searching for self-deception in Aristotle's Topics: On the other end of "haggling"

Tuesday, June 13

Session 3. Chair: Walter Mesch

10.30-11.15 Christof Rapp (LMU Munich): Deceiving oneself about one's own standing, merits and moral goodness. Themes from Aristotle's moral psychology

11.15-12.00 Michail Pantoulas (NKU Athens): Practical truth and akrasia: Self-deception in the practical syllogism

Coffee Break

12.30-13.15 Pavlos Kontos (UoPatras): Hope and self-deception

Session 4. Chair: Panagiotis Thanassas

18.30-19.15 Kathryn Muyskens & Thomas Davis (Yale-NUS): Self-Deception Stoic-Style

19.15-20.00 Kelly Arenson (Duquesne): Epicureans on Hedonic Self-Deception

20.00-20.15 Some Conclusions

The sessions schedule will be followed strictly.